Mu Sigma – Not why, but why not?

Mu Sigma, today, is a leader in the Decision Sciences space. We have achieved this because of our belief that talent in our industry needs to be created and not found and that everybody has the ability to become a Decision Scientist.

Every candidate who joins us as a Trainee Decision Scientist will attend Mu Sigma University. As part of MSU, you will learn the concepts of decision sciences from scratch and have access to technologies used exhaustively and exclusively in the field.

Being part of this juggernaut however has several requirements and expectations.

Do not come on board if:

1. You are not hungry to learn (be it new subjects, businesses or technologies)
2. You don't want to work in an extremely fast paced environment
3. You're not open to change and prefer to stay within your comfort zone in terms of work, practices, people and everything else
4. You don't want to get your hands dirty with a little programming
5. All you want to do is programming
6. You don't want to take on additional responsibilities within the team
7. You don't like documenting your learning and work
8. You want a bulging wallet that weighs down your trousers, albeit we like to blame that on the city you will be working in

What we expect from you:

1. Communicate effectively with client/onsite personnel to ensure transparency and clarity
2. Understand evolving business needs and actively gather domain related information to share and teach, and create ideas within the organization
3. Deliver well organized and error-free reports, dashboards, data analysis and statistical models on time
4. Manage time well, have a life and help make the world a better place by actively participating in organizational initiatives

What we offer you in return:

1. Learning as a way of life, in a challenging and diverse work environment
2. The opportunity to push the envelope of your capabilities with a top-notch peer group
3. A collaborative culture that encourages counter points and believes in being open minded
4. The guarantee that you will be a part of a select group that will globally redefine the process of decision making

If you still believe you have what it takes, then we can be the Nick Fury to your potential Avenger, so apply right away!
